

E-mail Fraud Scam

Date: December 17, 2009

A new phishing threat is currently circulating by email requesting Visa credit card information. The subject line of the email will read "Possible Fraudulent Transaction" this is NOT a legitimate email. This is a FRAUDULENT attempt to obtain personal information. Visa does NOT send email notifications to verify suspicious information.

Cell Phone Scam

Date: December 17, 2009

We have been informed of a potential phishing threat. This phishing threat is coming from Android cell phone Marketplace. A fraudulent mobile banking application has been created and is attempting to obtain banking customer financial information. This downloadable is provided by Droid09 and is NOT an authorized or legitimate downloadable application for our institution.